Preface

In the last three quarters of this century, Ukrainian communities in the United States and Canada, in the course of their growth, have been characterized by these especially notable achievements: the preservation of their national ethnic identity, the integration of Ukrainian culture into the social and cultural life of these countries, and the making of an outstanding contribution to the civilization of North America.

Annals from the beginning of the 1900's show that at that time there were only a small number of Ukrainians with higher education in the United States and Canada. In the 1930's the number of trained professionals and educators, as well as legislators and cultural activists approached but a few thousand. In our time the potential of Ukrainians in this respect indicates a powerful growth, extending to many thousands of highly qualified Americans and Canadians of Ukrainian origin, who have both preserved their national identity and at the same time contributed by their abilities, intellect and labor to the prosperity of Canada and the United States. They range from spiritual leaders and community servants to specialized physicians and engineers, from writers and composers to legislators and high governmental officers, from artists and film stars to educators and scientists who have contributed to almost all space flights, from professional football and hockey players to generals of the armed forces. Thousands have received high awards for their achievements, and many have obtained national and international patents for their inventions. At the same time the contributions of many of these people have been recognized by awards from Ukrainian communities of this continent.

In spite of the fact that most of these persons are listed in many international, national and professional directories, the practice of publishing their biographies in a separate directory has not yet become customary although there have been several serious attempts which were highly praised as reference sources. Among them should be mentioned the Directory of Ukrainian Professionals in the United States, Chicago, 1939; Ukrainian Year Book and Ukrainians of Distinction, Winnipeg, 1954, and the Guide to Ukrainian-American Institutions, Professionals and Business, New York, 1955. These publications, however, dealt only partly with biographies or were devoted to the limited fields of the professions. Hence, Ukrainians in North America is the first biographical directory of noteworthy Ukrainians in the United States and Canada regardless of field of profession, or kind of activity. Containing nearly two thousand biographies, it reflects the wide-ranging output of their lives, their interests, activities, and distinctions.

Issuing this volume on the threshold of the last quarter of this century of prosperity, and at the Bicentennial of the United States of America, we believe that it will be followed by further editions and similar biographical directories. It is our sincere hope that this edition of Ukrainians in North America and its successors will serve as a valuable reference source not only for our contemporaries, but also for generations to come, who will proudly acknowledge the lives and deeds of their fathers, recognizing that "the history of the world is but the biography of great men" (Thomas Carlyle).

Notes on Scope and Arrangement

The first edition of Ukrainians in North America: A Biographical Directory of Noteworthy Men and Women of Ukrainian Origin in the United States and Canada has been prepared as an original publication and has included selected biographies of Ukrainians living in the United States and Canada.

The work on the Directory has been conducted on the basis of biographical data obtained from completed questionnaires or other biographical information received from biographees. The arrangement of the biographical notes is generally based on a standard order of description used by Who's Who in America, The Canadian Who's Who, and leading professional biographical directories. This order was not followed only when specific data did not permit.

The admission to Ukrainians in North America was judged on four main factors: (1) positions of responsibility held (2) scientific-scholarly and/or professional work (3) cultural, social and/or political activities and (4) past positions and services. Inclusion in the Directory also depended on the biographee's contributions to the cultural, social and political life of Ukrainian communities in the United States and Canada.

All data in the biographical notes are recorded according to information received from biographees. A number of these notes were supplemented by additional information found in various biographical directories or other reference sources when questionnaires were not complete.

The personal and geographical names in the biographies obtained from the completed questionnaires in the Latin alphabet are listed accordingly except those otherwise identified by Ukraine: A Concise Encyclopaedia or Webster's Geographical Directory, i.e. Kiev, Lviv, Kharkiv, Kamianets Podilsky, etc. The names in the entries based on data furnished in the Ukrainian alphabet are transliterated according to the Library of Congress transliteration scheme except the common female first names such as Maria, Sofia, Nadia, Natalia, etc. The English names of Ukrainian societies, institutions and political parties, which are given in the abbreviated form, are based on Ukraine: A Concise Encyclopaedia, The Ukrainian Canadians and Guide to Ukrainian-American Institutions, Professionals and Business. Some Ukrainian organizations and military formations are listed in vernacular, i.e. Prosvita, Plast, Corp. Sich. Striltsi, CoDUS, etc., providing that they are better known in the Ukrainian form while their translation into English might have given a different meaning. They are identified in the Table of Abbreviations.

There are a number of persons, who in spite of furnishing their filled-out questionnaires, were not admitted to the pages of Ukrainians in North America. The main reason for this was the incompleteness of biographical information.

It should be emphasized that the length of a biographical note can not be interpreted as a valid measure of a biographee's importance. It rather indicates that the Editorial Board had more information on hand regarding one person than on another.

There are thirty-five biographees who died during the preparation of this publication, i.e. from 1973 to 1975. A special tribute is paid to them in listing their biographical notes in the separate chapter of the Directory.

A special list of biographees living in the United States and a similar list of those living in Canada is included at the end of the Directory.

Finally it should be understood that despite a series of checking and counterchecking and all other efforts on the part of the Editor to eliminate errors, some still remain.

Biographical notes are arranged in the following order:

Personal data. This part of the note includes: Last, first and middle (if any, or initial) names; maiden name of married female in parenthesis. Occupation (or occupations), profession, or position. Place and date of birth, indicating the name of town and country in Europe, province in Canada, or state in the United States. Names of parents with mother's maiden name in parenthesis. Marital status: for married persons, husband's first name and initial of last name, or wife's first and maiden names are given; date of marriage and names of children if any. Date of American or Canadian citizenship by naturalization for persons born outside these countries.

Education. In general, no degree prior to college or university studies is shown. Only in a few specific cases are high school or equivalent diplomas mentioned. Academic studies and degrees are entered chronologically; when more than one degree has been received from the same school, its name is not repeated. Most honors, scholarships and study or research grants are listed. For clergymen the date and place of ordainment (if provided) are followed by ecclesiastical ranks.

Positions. Full-time and important part-time positions are entered chronologically. When different positions were held in the same institution, its name is not repeated. For educators gradually promoted in ranks in the same school, only initial and last ranks are given, i.e. from instr. to prof. Following this listing, concurrent additional positions and consultancies are entered. In biographical notes of artists, actors, musicians, architects, civil servants, and military officers it was necessary to change this pattern in order to describe their activities which are entered chronologically.

Military service. Only the general name of armed forces with indication of country is given, including dates of active and reserve duties with the last rank, or the final rank at discharge. All ranks are entered when the military service is indicated as a principal career. Ranks in Ukrainian and other European armed forces are given in terms equivalent to ranks of the United States Armed Forces.

Society membership. Membership of professional, cultural, political, and social societies on the local, national and international levels and foreign organizations are entered together with positions held. An emphasis is put upon the membership and patronship of Ukrainian scientific, professional, cultural and religious societies and institutions which are listed in the same place.

Publications. Authorship and co-authorship of books and editorship of monographs, journals and newspapers, as well as contribution to separate and serial publications are listed respectively. There are many biographees in the Directory who possess extensive bibliographies of their works. However, only four books are listed and for the most part four periodicals, to which they contributed, are entered. For most authors the general number of their publications (books, chapters and articles) is indicated.

Knowledge of languages. Knowledge of languages besides English is given according to information provided by biographees. Some biographical notes of prominent persons do not indicate these data because of lack of information, although those particular biographees have a fluent command of several languages.

Listing in biographical directories. Other biographical directories, in which biographees are listed, are given in the abbreviated form. Information for these data was obtained from questionnaires and the research made by the Editor. Most of them were checked in order to obtain information not provided by the questionnaires. Other reference sources containing either complete biographies, bibliographies of some persons, or important data regarding their activities are given.

Address. The biographee's address is usually given at the end of the biographical note.

Punctuation. Commas are used to distinguish degrees, positions, or activities from institutions, dates, locations, etc. Semicolons show changes of separate sections of biographical note. Periods are used in abbreviations and as punctuations at the end of each main part. Hyphens indicate the continuation of studies or positions; they are used primarily between dates and at the end of dates, when particular functions continue to the present time.

Abbreviations. In order to save space abbreviations are used extensively in biographical notes. They also include abbreviations and acronyms of societies. Most of them are identified in the Table of Abbreviations. Some of the abbreviations, whose meaning is obvious in the context, are not listed.
