

016.91477
C43b

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF UKRAINE

BEHAVIOR SCIENCE BIBLIOGRAPHIES

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF UKRAINE

Prepared by University of Chicago

For HUMAN RELATIONS AREA FILES, INC.
Box 2054 Yale Station, New Haven, Connecticut
1956

ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY

UKRAINE

1. Achminow, Hermann. "Die Oberschicht in der Dowjetunion," [The Upper Stratum in the Soviet Union], Osteuropa, Jahrgang 3, Heft 4, August 1953, pp. 243-250; Heft 5, October 1953, pp. 339-347.

Gives evidence for growth of class distinctions in Soviet society. Bibliography.

- * 2. Administrativno-Territorial'noe delenie soiuzykh respublik. [Administrative-Territorial Division of the Union Republics.] Moscow: Izdatel'stvo "Izvestiia Sovetov Deputatov Trudiaschchikhsia SSSR," 1954. 486 pp.
Recent information on administrative divisions. Ukraine is treated on pp. 183-243. Index.
3. Allen, William Edward David. The Ukraine. A History. Cambridge (England): Cambridge University Press, 1940.
An informative, thoughtful and fair-minded account -- perhaps the most free of bias and prejudice of the English language works on Ukrainian history.
4. Andrusyshyn, C. H. "Ukrainian Literature -- A Mirror of the Common Man," Ukrainian Quarterly, Vol. IV, No. 1, Winter 1948, pp. 44-54.
Sympathetic account, developing the theme of democratic and humanistic content in the literature, by a professor at the University of Saskatchewan.
5. Antonovych, D. Ukrains'ka kul'tura. [Ukrainian Culture.] Regensburg, 1947. 399 pp.
The national culture described from the standpoint of the emigré intellectual.
6. Armstrong, John A. Ukrainian Nationalism, 1939-1945. New York: Columbia University Press, 1955. xi plus 322 pp.
The best account of Ukrainian nationalist activity during the period covered. Discusses the activity of all of the several nationalist groups, emphasizing the Mel'nyk and Bandera factions of the OUN and its partial successor the UPA. Based in part on the author's interviews with participants in nationalist activity in Ukraine.
7. Bahriany, Ivan. Chomu ja ne khochu vertaty na "rodinu." [Why I

* The Library of Congress system of transliteration is followed throughout.

7. Bahriany, Ivan. (cont.)
do not Wish to Return to the "Fatherland." London: Ukrainian Central Bureau, 1946. 30 pp.
Attitude of the leader of Ukrainian emigrés from the Eastern Ukraine.
8. Bal'zak, S. S.; V. F. Vasiutin; IA. G. Feigin. Die SSR Ukrain. SSR Moldau und ASSR Krim. (Wirtschaftsgeographie der UdSSR, Heft 15) [The Ukrainian SSR. Moldavian SSR. ASSR Crimea. Economic geography of USSR, volume 15.] Translated from the Russian by H. Pridik and Dr. O. Kossmann. Berlin: Publikationsstelle für den Dienstgebrauch, 1942. 132 pp., maps. Standard work, in translation. Never issued for general market.
9. ----- Economic geography of the USSR. American edition, translated under the editorship of Chauncy D. Harris. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1952. xiv plus 670 pp.
A standard pre-war Soviet work on the economic geography from a systematic (non-regional) standpoint. Exposes major policy assumptions as of the time written (ca. 1937).
10. Baranskii, Nikolai Nikolaevich. Ekonomicheskaja geografija SSSR. Uchebnik dlja 8-go klassa srednei shkoly. [Economic Geography of USSR. Text for the 8th Class of Middle School.] 14th edition. Moscow: Gosudarstvennoe Uchebno-Pedagogicheskoe Izdatel'stvo, 1954. 364 pp.
A Stalin-prize work, used not only in secondary schools, but also in Soviet universities. Coverage is regional, and while not detailed, is accurate and very useful.
11. Bergson, A. "On Inequality of Income in the USSR," American Slavic and East European Review, volume I, August 1951, pp. 4-15.
Shows growth of differentiated population groups from the standpoint of distribution economics, and function of income differences in the incentive system.
12. Bienstock, Gregory; Solomon M. Schwartz; and Aaron Yugow. Management in Russian Industry and Agriculture. London and New York: Oxford University Press, 1944. 198 pp.
An exposition of the nature of Soviet management policies and problems in the late war period.
13. Bol'shaia Sovetskaja Entsiklopedija. [Large Soviet Encyclopedia.] Second edition. Moscow: Gosudarstvennoe Nauchnoe Izdatel'stvo "Bol'shaia Sovetskaja Entsiklopedija," 1948- , Vol. I-. Publication of component volumes still in progress. Articles in many volumes on subjects pertinent to study of the Ukraine. Special volume on the USSR particularly useful.

14. Borschak, Elie. La légende historique de l'Ukraine. [The Historical Legend of Ukraine.] Paris: Collection Historique de l'Institut d'Etudes Slaves de l'Université de Paris, 1929.
A scholarly discussion of Kostomarov's Knyhy Bytia Ukraina'koho Narodu and its influence. Establishes the "mythological" character of the work.
15. Rragy, Pierre and Prince Sergei Obolensky. The Ukraina -- a Russian Land. London: Selwyn and Blount, 1940. 260 pp.
An essay seeking to refute Ukrainian separatist doctrines and to show that Ukraine is and must be an organic part of any Russian state.
16. Canada d'Almeida, P. États de la Baltique. Russie. Géographie Universelle, tome V. [Baltic States. Russia. Universal Geography, volume 5.] Paris: Librairie Armand Colin, 1934.
Masterful general geographic account, valuable for its sound generalizations and its clarity, despite its age.
17. Caser, Lewis A. "Some Aspects of Soviet Family Policy," American Journal of Sociology, volume LVI, No. 5, March 1951, pp. 425-434.
18. Chamberlain, W. H. The Ukraine: A Submerged Nation. New York, 1944.
Strongly pro-nationalist account by an outstanding Western convert to the Ukrainian cause.
19. Chubaty, Nicholas D. "Russian Church Policy in Ukraine," Ukrainian Quarterly, volume II, number 1, Autumn 1945, pp. 43-56.
Stresses Soviet attempts to absorb separate Ukrainian church in the Russian Orthodox church. The author is a former professor in L'vov, and now president of the Shevchenko Society in USA.
20. Chubynskyi, P. Trudy ètnograficheskoi èkspeditsii v Zapadno-Russkii Krai. [Proceedings of the Ethnographic-statistical Expedition to West Russia.] 7 volumes, St. Petersburg, 1871-8.
A great collection of materials on various aspects of the "folk" culture of Belorussia and Ukraine, assembled under the Russian Geographical Society's leadership. Unequaled as a source on such fields as customary law, folklore, dialects, costume, etc.
21. Clark, Mills Gardner. "The Soviet Steel Industry," Journal of Economic History, volume 12, number 4, Autumn 1952, pp. 396-410.
Brief treatment of development, technology, location and prospects.
22. Coleman, Arthur P. Brief Survey of Ukrainian Literature. New York, 1936.
A good general survey by a professor at Columbia University.

23. Curtiss, John Sheldon. The Russian Church and the Soviet State 1917-1950. Boston: Little, Brown and Co., 1953. 387 pp.
Detailed study, emphasizing problems of the Russian Orthodox church, somewhat neglecting Ukrainian church affairs. Well documented account, employing Soviet as well as outside sources.
24. Dallin, David Julievich and Boris Nikolaevskii. Forced Labor in Soviet Russia. New Haven: Yale University Press, 1947. 331 pp.
A detailed and definitive work on the subject.
25. DeBray, Reginald George Arthur. Guide to the Slavonic Languages. London: Dent; New York: Dutton, (1951) 797 pp.
A semi-scholarly work, giving linguistic treatment from existing (but undocumented!) knowledge, and intended for non-specialists.
26. Derzhavin, N. S. Proiskhozhdenie russkogo naroda -- velikoruskogo, ukrainskogo, belorusskogo. [Origin of the Russian People -- Great Russian, Ukrainian, Belorussian.] Moscow: Gosudarstvennoe izdatel'stvo "Sovetskaya Nauka," 1944. 127 pp.
Essay by a noted Soviet slavist, emphasizing the common origins of the three East Slavic nations, in accordance with official doctrine.
27. Dinerstein, Herbert S. and Leon Gouré. Two Studies in Soviet Controls: Communism and the Russian Peasant. Moscow in Crisis. Glencoe, Ill.: The Free Press, 1955.
Two distinct works, that on the peasant emphasizing difficulties in establishing Soviet attitudes among the peasantry.
28. Dobb, Maurice. Soviet Economic Development Since 1917. London: Routledge and Kegan Paul, Ltd., 1948.
The foremost Western Marxist economist writing on the Soviet experience. Conclusions very favorable.
29. Doroshenko, Dmitro. History of the Ukraine. Edmonton, Alta.: 1939
English condensation of Doroshenko's major work, Narys istorii Ukrainy, [Outline of the History of Ukraine, 2 volumes, Warsaw, 1932-33.] The point of view is separatist.
30. Doroshenko, Volodymyr Viktorovych. Ognishche ukrains'koi nauky -- naukova tovarystvo imeny T. Shevchenko. [The Heart of Ukrainian Science -- the Shevchenko Scientific Society.] New York, 1951.
A short essay and a brief history of the society.

31. Drahomanov, Mykhaylo. Selected Writings. [Annals of the Ukrainian Academy of Arts and Sciences in the US.] volume 2, number 1, pp. 141--224. New York, 1952.
English translation of several articles by the eminent nineteenth century Ukrainian political thinker, concerned with East European federation; a mild nationalist and social democrat. Useful for understanding subsequent trends in Ukrainian political thought.
32. Dubrova, A. T. Ukrainskaia Sovetskaia Sotsialisticheskaia Respublika. [The Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic.] Moscow: "Geografiz," 1954.
A historical and geographical account of Ukraine in the Soviet period, stressing Soviet achievements.
33. Dubrov's'ky, Vasyl. SSSR iak federatsiia. [The USSR as a Federation.] (In Ukrainian). Winnipeg: "Kul'tura i Osvita," 1947. 30 pp.
A former professor from Kharkov employing the writings of the Soviets to demonstrate that the "federation" is a fiction masking centralized Communist-Russian control in USSR.
34. Entsyklopediia Ukrainoznavstva. [Encyclopedia of Ukrainian Studies.] 3 volumes in iv. Munich and New York: Naukove Tovyarystvo imeni Shevchenko, 1949.
Prepared by a large number of Ukrainian scholars in exile. Very extensive coverage, in general of high quality. Editors V. Kubiiovych and Z. Kuzela. Weak in sociology and in a few other fields. Documentation often poor or incomplete.
35. Fainsod, Merle. How Russia is Ruled. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1953. 575 pp.
The best study of Soviet political administration at all levels. A well-documented and surprisingly complete work.
36. Feldmesser, Robert A. "The Persistence of Status Advantages in Soviet Russia," American Journal of Sociology, volume LIX, No. 1, July 1953, pp. 19-27.
Documentation and analysis of stratification based on the incentive system.
37. Galger, Kent. "The Soviet Urban Family," American Sociological Review, February 1955.
Introduces concept of a new Soviet typewith distinctive level of consumption, world-view, etc.
38. George, Pierre. URSS. Haute Asie. Iran [USSR. Inner Asia. Iran.] Paris: Presses Universitaires de France, 1947.
Beautifully written geographical study, both regional and systematic, by a French Marxist geographer. Excellent brief characterization of Ukraine.

39. Gsovsky, Vladimir, "Family and Inheritance in Soviet Law," Russian Review (New York), volume VII, number 1, 1947, pp. 71-87.
Legal background on family problems by a leading emigre legal scholar.
40. Guillebaud, Philomena, "The Role of Honorary Awards in the Soviet Economic System," American Slavic and East European Review, volume XII, 1953, pp. 486-505.
Describes the highly institutionalized honorary and money award system used by the Soviets for stimulating higher productivity. Scholarly article, employing extensively the Soviet sources.
41. Hazard, John. Law and Social Change in the USSR. Toronto: 1953. 310 pp.
General background of the Soviet legal system as an environment of social action.
42. Hlobenko, Mykola. "Thirty-five years of Ukrainian Literature in the USSR," Slavonic and East European Review (London), volume XXVIII, number 80, December 1954, pp. 1-16.
A Ukrainian literary critic describes the struggle for national content and form in Ukrainian literature, from a viewpoint very sympathetic to the national cause.
43. Hrushevsky, Mikhail Sergeevich. A History of Ukraine. Translated by O. J. Frederiksen. New Haven: Yale University Press; London: Oxford University Press, 1941. 629 pp.
The dean of Ukrainian historians, former professor in L'vov and Kiev, political leader, etc., who died in the 1930's, is the author of this classic work.
44. ----- . Z istorii religiozni dumky na Ukraini. [From the History of Religious Thought in Ukraine.] L'vov: Ukrainian Sociological Institute, 1925. 160 pp.
Historical work with emphasis on ideological and social aspects. The most valued and complete book, with high scholarly standing.
45. ----- . "Das übliche Schema der "russischen" Geschichte und die Frage der Geschichte des Ostslaventums," [The Usual Schema of Russian History and the Question of East Slavic History.] In: Professor Michael Hruschewskyj. Sein Leben und Wirken, Berlin: Ukrainisches Wirtschaftliches Institut, 1935.
Disputes the standard view, based largely on Kliuchevskii, that the Great Russians are the bearers of the development out of the Kievan tradition; asserts the Ukrainian claim to priority as representatives of Kievan cultural descent.

46. Inkeles, Alex. Public Opinion in Soviet Russia. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1950.
A brilliant general study of this topic, well documented and scholarly.
47. ----- . "Social Stratification and Mobility in the Soviet Union." In: Class, Status and Power: a Reader in Social Stratification, edited by R. Bendix and S. Lipsat. Glencoe, Illinois: The Free Press, 1953. pp. 609-622.
Traces elaboration of the Soviet system, with restrictions on social mobility. Does not treat ethnic stratification. Good coverage of Soviet sources.
48. Jasny, Naum. The Socialized Agriculture of the USSR. Stanford: Stanford University Press, 1949. 837 pp.
A great survey of the history and economics of Soviet agriculture. One of the fundamental studies on this subject.
49. Kirimal, E. "The Tragedy of Crimea," Eastern Quarterly, IV, January 1951, pp. 39-46.
Describes the dispossession of the Turkic inhabitants of Crimea, and their replacement by Slavs.
50. Kliuchevskii, Vasilii Osipovich. A History of Russia. 5 volumes, translated from Russian. London: Dent; New York, Dutton, 1911-31.
The master historian of the Russian school presenting the thesis of the descent of Muscovy from ancient Kievan Rus'. Treats the history of Ukraine as an organic part of Russian national history.
51. Knysh, Zynoviy. Istoriia Ukraini'koi politychnoi dumky do kintsia XVIII stolittia. [History of Ukrainian Political Thought to the End of the Eighteenth Century.] Paris-Winnipeg: 1952. 204 pp.
Presents the ideas of national freedom and social justice as the dominant principles of Ukrainian political thought. Nationalistic.
52. Kolarz, Walter. Russia and Her Colonies. New York: Frederick A. Praeger, 1952. xiv plus 335 pp.
The author's case is built around his assumption of a colonial relationship between the Russians and other nationalities of USSR. Uses Soviet press sources to support this view. Rather good detail on many aspects of ethnic affairs.
53. Kossack, Hans Peter. "Der ukrainische Raum, seine Bevölkerung und seine Wirtschaftsstruktur," [Ukrainian Space: Its Population and Economic Structure.] Zeitschrift für Erdkunde, 8. Jahrgang, Heft 9/10, Mai 1940, pp. 217-238.
A geopolitically-oriented German estimate of Ukraine on the eve of the war.

54. Kostniuk, Bryhory. The Fall of Postyshev. Mimeographed series, number 7, Research Program on the USSR. New York, the Program, 1953. 25 pp.
Deals with conflicts in leadership in the Ukrainian SSR just before the Second War.
55. Kostomarov, Mykola. Knyhy byttilia ukrains'koho narodu. [Books on the Way of Life of the Ukrainian People.] Augsburg: Ukrainian Free Academy of Sciences, 1947. 60 pp.
A fundamental essay in Ukrainian historical and political philosophy, by a leading nineteenth century historian, first written in 1846-7, and initially published in 1918. Proclaims a messianic role of the Ukrainians as spokesman for freedom and brotherhood among nations.
56. Koveliv, P. Ukrains'ka mova ta iiii stanovishche sared inshykh slovianskykh mov. [The Ukrainian Language and its Place Among the Slavic Languages.] [Slavistica, Proceedings of the Institute of Slavistics of the Ukrainian Free Academy of Sciences. No. 20] Winnipeg, 1954.
Argument for origin of Ukrainian, Belorussian and Russian out of dialects of common Slavic, and against their community of descent from an East-Slavic language. Stresses features common to Ukrainian and West Slavic languages. An attempt to muster linguistic arguments to the support of political separatism.
57. Kubiiovych, Volodymyr. Atlas Ukrainy i sumezhnykh kraiv. [Atlas of Ukraine and Neighboring Countries.] L'vov: Ukrains'kyy Vydavnychyy Instytut, 1927. 66 double-page maps, with text.
An excellent, scholarly presentation on maps of historical, geographic, and social information about the lands inhabited by Ukrainians, drawn from many sources and expressed over an area divided among several different countries.
58. Kučera, Jindrich. "Soviet Nationality Policy : the Linguistic Controversy," Problems of Communism, No. 2, Volume 3, 1954, p. 24.
From a Ph.D. thesis in Harvard University, April 1952, entitled "Language Policy in the Soviet Union," dealing with relations among languages and Soviet policies in linguistics.
59. Kulischer, Eugene M. "Certain Aspects of the Development of USSR Population." Seminar notes Russian Research Center, Harvard University, May 22, 1953, 15 pp.
Inferences from classified research as to war losses and present population structure.

60. Kulischer, Eugene M. Europe on the Move. War and Population Changes, 1917-1947. New York: Columbia University Press, 1948. xvi plus 337 pp.
Scientific, complete and accurate within limits of the data. Suggests a gradual shift of Slavic population westward, reversing the historical trend.
61. ----- . "Population Changes Behind the Iron Curtain." Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, No. 271, September 1950, pp. 103-111.
Proposes a high birth rate, falling death rate, and rapid increase in population.
62. Kulski, W. W. "Class Stratification in the Soviet Union," Foreign Affairs, volume XXXII, October 1953, pp. 145-153.
A general essay, without much specific documentation.
63. ----- . The Soviet Regime. Communism in Practice. Syracuse, N. Y.: Syracuse University Press, 1954. 807 pp.
Discusses the attempt to apply Communist theory to the political, economic, cultural and social life of the USSR, and the failure to establish a genuinely Communist society, resulting in retreat to a conservative, nationalistic, stratified society. Strongly anti-Soviet.
64. Kuropatkin, A. Die Oekonomie der landwirtschaftlichen Arbeit in der UdSSR. [Agricultural Labor Economics in the USSR.] Translated from the Russian. Berlin: Deutscher Bauernverlag, 1953.
A standard Soviet work, in German translation (for East Germany).
65. Kytasty, Hryhory. Some Aspects of Ukrainian Music Under the Soviets. Mimeographed series, Research Program on the USSR. New York, -- 62 pp.
Documents the elimination of rival "schools" and the establishment of Socialist Realism in Ukrainian music.
66. Laskovsky, Nicholas. "Practicing Law in the Occupied Ukraine," American Slavic and East European Review, volume 11, 1952, pp. 123-137.
The author, now at Fordham University, participated in local government and judicial activity in Ukraine under the Germans in World War II. He reports attempts to throw out Soviet law completely.
67. Lebed', Mykola. UPA - Ukrain's'ka Povstans'ka Armia, iia genesa, rist, i dii u vyzvolnyi borot'bi ukrains'koho narodu za Ukrain's'ku Samostiynu Sobornu Derzhavu. Chastyna I: Nimets'ka Okupatsiia Ukrainy. [UPA - Ukrainian Insurgent Army, Its Origin, Growth and Actions in the Liberation Struggle of the

67. Ledeb', Mykola. (cont.)
 Ukrainian People for a Ukrainian Independent United State.
 Part I: German Occupation of Ukraine. N.p.: Press Bureau of Ukrainian Supreme Liberation Council, 1946. 127 pp.
 Attempt to show popular base of the OUN (R), UPA, and UHVR movements, and to prove that they fought against the Germans as well as against the Soviets. Very partisan.
68. Lialikov, N. I. Sovetsksia Ukraina. Ocherk ekonomicheskoi geografii. [Soviet Ukraine. Outline of Economic Geography.]
 Moscow: Gosudarstvennoe Izdatel'stvo Geograficheskoi
 Literatury, 1954.
 An adequate economic geography, largely devoted to proclaiming the successes of the Soviet regime.
69. Livesay, Florence Randal. Songs of Ukraina, with Ruthenian Poems. London, Paris, Toronto: Dant; New York: Dutton, 1916. 175 pp.
 A source of Ukrainian folklore in English, but not always faithful to the originals.
70. Lobay, Danylo. Neperemozhna Ukraina. Fakty pro borot'bu Moskvy z ukrains'kym natsionalizmom na kul'tornom fronti po drunii svitoviy viyni. [Unconquerable Ukraine. Facts About the Struggle of Moscow Against Ukrainian Nationalism on the Cultural Front After the Second World War.] Winnipeg: Ukrainian Canadian Committee, 1950. 239 pp. Purge and Russification in post-War Ukraine, especially in the West.
71. Lowthal, R. "The Extinction of the Krimchaks in World War II,"
American Slavic and East European Review, volume X, April 1951, pp. 13C-136.
 Destruction of a small Jewish group in Crimea by the Germans.
72. Lorimer, Frank. The Population of the Soviet Union: History and Prospects. Geneva: League of Nations, 1946. xiv plus 289 pp.
 An exhaustive survey and definitive synthesis of the existing information on Soviet population up to 1939 Shows the rapid growth rates, especially of Slavs; trends toward urbanization and industrialization. Depends on Soviet statistics, and accepts them as useful if not always trustworthy.
73. Luckyj, George. "The Extent and Nature of the Ukrainian Writers' Resistance to the Formation of the Soviet Writers' Union (1932-1934)." Unpublished seminar notes, Russian Research Center, Harvard University, 9 January 1953.
 Study of Soviet literary policy and Ukrainian resistance to regimentation and Sovietization; the best available account.

74. MacEoin, Gary. The Communist War on Religion. New York: Delvin Adair Co., 1951. 264 pp.
Covers the history of Communist anti-religious activities in USSR and the satellites, 1917-1950. Not always accurate, and strongly anti-Soviet.
75. Majstrenko, Iwan. Borotbism: A Chapter in the History of Ukrainian Communism. (Translated from Ukrainian by George Luckj; edited by Peter Dorman.) Studies on the USSR, No. 9. New York: Research Program on the USSR, 1954. xv plus 325 pp.
A systematic account of the development and decline of the Borotbists, a Ukrainian Social Revolutionary faction which eventually joined the Bolsheviks and became the foremost advocates of a National communism for the Ukraine during the twenties. The only such account available. The author is a former Borotbist.
76. Manning, Clarence A. Twentieth Century Ukraine. New York: Bookman Associates, 1951. 243 pp.
A scholarly historical work covering the period 1900-1950, by a Columbia University professor and well-known friend of the Ukrainian national cause.
77. ----- . Ukrainian Literature. Studies in the Leading Authors. Jersey City, N. J.: 1944.
A good survey of the artistic literature, with some tendency to accentuate the separateness of Ukrainian from Russian literary traditions.
78. Marchenko, V. P. Planirovanie nauchnoi raboty v SSSR (na opyte Ukrainiskoi Akademii Nauk). [The Planning of Scientific Work in the USSR.] From Experience in the Ukrainian Academy of Sciences. Munich: Institute for the Study of the History and Culture of the USSR, 1953.
General treatment of the problem, by a demographer and economic geographer.
79. Margolin, Arnold. From a Political Diary: Russia, the Ukraine and America, 1905-1945. New York: Columbia University Press, 1946. viii plus 250 pp.
By a former member of the Ukrainian Rada in 1918. Good participant account of events in this period.
80. Mazepa, Isaak. Pidstavy nashoho vidrodzhennia. Chastyna persha: Prychyny nashoi bezderzhavnosti. [Foundations of Our Revival. Part one: Reasons for our Statelessness.] Augsburg: "Prometheus," 1946. 180 pp.
The former premier of the Ukrainian state (1918) attributes the absence of state development to the presence of strong expansionist neighbors around the borders of the Ukraine.

81. Medynskii, E. N. Narodnoe obrazovanie v SSSR. [Education in the USSR.] Moscow, 1952.
The organization of the Soviet school system, and the content of the curriculum, are given. The examples are mostly from the RSFSR.
82. Mirchuk, Ivan (editor). Handbuch der Ukraine. Im Auftrage des Ukrainischen Wissenschaftlichen Instituts herausgegeben. [Handbook of Ukraine.] Published for the Ukrainian Scientific Institute. Leipzig: O. Harrassowitz, 1941.
(See next entry.)
83. ----- . Ukraine and its People: A Handbook with Maps, Statistical Tables and Diagrams. Munich: Ukrainian Free University Press, 1949. 280 pp.
A small encyclopedia of Ukraine, with articles by various Ukrainian scholars on features of the land and people. Strongly colored by nationalist sentiment and tending to self-flattery of the Ukrainians. Most of the statements are undocumented, and many are doubtful.
84. Morison, Walter Angus and William James Entwistle. Russian and the Slavonic Languages. London: Faber and Faber, (1949.) 407 pp.
An introduction to Slavic linguistics, somewhat less than a text and somewhat more than a handbook or popular introduction.
85. Narys istorii Ukrainy. [Outline of the History of Ukraine.] Toronto: Ukrain's'ka Zhyttia, 1944. 213 pp.
A group project published originally in the USSR by eight Soviet Ukrainian historians, and reprinted at Toronto. Exhibits the later Soviet Ukrainian historiographic tradition, neither that of Ukrainian nationalism nor of the Filrovsky school of Marxism. Pro-Russian and falsified or distorted.
86. Narys ekonomichnoi heohrafiï Ukrain's'koi Radians'koi Sotsialistychnoi Respubliky. [Outline of the Economic Geography of the Ukrainian SSR.] 2 volumes, 565 pp. Kiev: Akademia Nauk URSR, 1949-1952.
The first volume is general and systematic, the second regional by oblast. Description of industries and agricultural activities, locations, but no production figures.
87. Nuttinson, M. Y. "Agroclimatology and Crop Ecology of the Ukraine and Climatic Analogues in North America," Geographical Review, volume 27, number 2, April 1947, pp. 217-238.
Pioneer study in agroclimatology, prototype of later work on many areas of the world. Useful for understanding agriculture in Ukraine. The method is necessarily one of rough approximation.

88. Nykolyshyn, S. Kul'turna polityka Bol'shevykiv i Ukraïns'kyy kul'turnyy protses. Publisystychni refleksii. [Bolshevik Cultural Policy and the Ukrainian Cultural Process.] Publicist's Reflections. N.p., 1947. 119 pp.
Sympathetic to Ukrainian nationalism, by a writer living in Czechoslovakia before 1945.
89. Ocherki razvitiia narodnogo khoziaistva Ukraïnskoï SSR. [Outline of the Development of the Economy of the Ukrainian SSR.] Moscow: published for the Institut Ekonomiki Akademii Nauk Ukraïnskoï SSSR, 1954. 554 pp.
The best single source on the economy of Ukraine. Divided into treatments of the pre-war, war, and post-war periods. Most of the figures are in yearly percentages, rather than absolute quantities.
90. Pap, Michael. "Soviet Difficulties in the Ukraine," Review of Politics, volume 14, 1952, pp. 204-232.
Strongly pro-nationalist account of the activities of Ukrainian separatists in the Ukraine, by a professor at Notre Dame.
91. ----- . "The Ukrainian Problem." In Soviet Imperialism: its Origins and Tactics, a Symposium. Edited by Waldemar Gurian. Notre Dame University Press, 1953. pp. 43-73.
Pro-nationalist account of Ukrainian resistance to Soviet policies.
92. Perkins, M. F. City Planning in Soviet Russia. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1953. 257 pp.
Important references to the destruction and rebuilding of Kiev.
93. Pipes, Richard. The Formation of the Soviet Union: Communism and Nationalism, 1917-1923. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1954. xiii plus 355 pp.
Chapter 6 deals with the Ukraine, as do chapters 1, 2 and 3 in part. The author describes how the Bolshevik leaders accommodated their policies to nationalist aspirations in order to gain the support of the non-Russian peoples. A major and valuable work on the subject of nationalism and early history of the USSR.
94. Politicheskaiia èkonomiia. [Political Economy.] Moscow: Gosudarstvennoe Izdatel'stvo Politicheskoi Literatury, 1954. 638 pp.
The latest available official Soviet work on economic theory.

95. Poniatowski, Jozef. "The Population of the Intermarium on the Eve of the Second World War," Eastern Quarterly, volume III, number 4, October 1950.
Deals with population of the area between Baltic and Black Seas, 1939-1940. Tries to show that Russians report smaller numbers of Ukrainians and Belorussians than actually exist. Accuracy doubtful.
96. ----- . "Population of the Intermarium After the Second World War," Eastern Quarterly, volume IV, number 3, July 1951.
Proposes that a new "Soviet nationality" is emerging.
97. Popliukio, A. "Izmenenie sotsial'nogo oblika krest'ianstva v SSSR" [Change in the Countenance of the Peasantry in the USSR] Vestnik Instituta po Izucheniiu Istorii i Kul'tury SSSR, Munich, No. 4 1953, pp. 67-86.
Claims that urbanization and mechanization have altered the village, and that old social organization is giving way rapidly.
98. ----- . "Migratsiianaseleniia i urbanizatsiia SSSR" [Migration of the Population and Urbanization in the USSR], Vestnik Instituta po Izucheniiu Istorii i Kul'tury SSSR, Munich, No. 2, 1952, pp. 70-86.
Emphasizes continuing drift of population to cities, and the shift of burden of agricultural work to women.
99. Prokopovich, Sergei N. Histoire économique de l'URSS. [Economic History of the USSR]. Translated from the Russian by Marcel Boly. Paris: Au Portulan, 1952. 627 pp.
An insightful and well argued history of the Soviet period. Critical and dispassionate. Written on the basis of much detailed information collected by the author systematically since the revolution from contemporary Soviet sources.
100. Prykhodko, Nicholas. "The Abolition of Religion in the Ukraine." Ukrainian Quarterly, volume VI, number 3, Summer 1950, pp. 241-245.
Documents the dissolution of Uniate and Ukrainian Orthodox hierarchies.
101. ----- . Communism in Reality. Toronto: New Canadian Publishing Co., 1950. 64 pp.
Essays on various political topics by a Ukrainian who grew up under the Soviet system.
102. Radzykevych, Volodymyr. Ukrains'ka literatura dvadtsiatoho stolittia. [Ukrainian Literature of the Twentieth Century]. Philadelphia: "America" Publishers, 1952. 134 pp.
A textbook sponsored by the Shevchenko Society.

103. Razvitie obshchestvennogo khoziaistva kolkhozov iuga Ukrainskoi SSR. Na materialakh Bashtanskogo raiona, Nikolaevskoi oblasti.
[The Development of the Social Economy of Kolkhozes in the South of the Ukrainian SSSR. Based on Materials from Bashtan Raion, Nikolaevsk Oblast'] Kiev: Akademiia Nauk SSSR, 1954. 232 pp.
 Very detailed studies of administration of kolkhozes. A uniquely valuable work for understanding kolkhoz operations.
104. Reshetar, John S., Jr., and Michael Luther. Aspects of the Nationality Problem in the USSR. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University, Russian Research Center (unpublished manuscript, March 1952).
 Historical approach, since the first days of the Soviet regime. Other areas are treated, as well as Ukraine. Insightful.
105. Reshetar, Jon S. "The Problem of National Deviation in the Soviet Union with Special Reference to the Ukrainian Republic," American Slavic and East European Review, April 1953.
 Points out the difficulties inherent in managing a multi-national state, and the problem of controlling development of nationalist or cultural autonomy movements within the lines of development suitable to needs of the regime.
106. ----- . "Ukrainian Nationalism and the Orthodox Church," American Slavic and East European Review, February 1951, pp. 38-49.
 Place of the Autocephalous Ukrainian church in the Orthodox confessions.
107. ----- . The Ukrainian Revolution 1917-1920. A Study in Nationalism. Princeton, N. J.: Princeton University Press, 1952. x plus 363 pp.
 The definitive work on Ukrainian nationalist movements and leadership since the fall of the Tsar. Fails to treat adequately the reception of nationalist activity by the common people. Does not document the period after 1920.
108. Romanenko, I. N. Razvitok narodnogo hospodarstva URSR v piatii piatilichstsi. [Development of the Ukrainian Economy in the Fifth Five Year Plan.] Kiev, Akademiia Nauk URSR, 1954. 103 pp.
 Data covers USSR as a whole, except in those cases where a considerable portion of the USSR outputs are from Ukraine.
109. Rossi, Peter H. and R. A. Bauer. "Some Patterns of Soviet Communications Behavior; Exposure to Soviet Communications Media," Public Opinion Quarterly, volume XVI, winter 1952-1953, pp. 655-666.

109. Rossi, Peter H. and R. A. Bauer. (cont.)
General information on coverage of the population by official information diffusion.
110. Rouček, J. S. "Geopolitics of Ukraine," Ukrainian Quarterly, volume VII, August 1951, pp. 303-311.
Speculative "strategic" essay.
111. Schwartz, Harry. Russia's Soviet Economy. New York: Prentice-Hall, 1954.
The best current book on the Soviet economy.
112. Schwartz, Solomon. The Jews in the Soviet Union. Syracuse, N.Y.:
Syracuse University Press, 1951. xviii plus 380 pp.
An emigre economist writes of the position of the Jews in the Soviet period, up to the end of the Second World War.
113. ----- . Labor in the Soviet Union. New York:
Praeger, 1952.
A model of Soviet labor relations and the labor market,
by an emigré labor economist.
114. ----- . Arbeiterklasse und Arbeitspolitik in der Sowjetunion. [Working Class and Labor Policy in the Soviet Union.] Hamburg: Verlag für Wirtschaft und Sozialpolitik, 1953.
Substantially the same as the preceding item, but with some later information.
115. Semenov-Tian-Shanskii, V. P., editor. Rossia. Polnoe geo-graficheskoe opisanié nashego otchestva. Tom VII: Malorossia; Tom XIV: Novorossia i Krym. [Russia. A Full Geographic Description of our Fatherland. Volume VII: Little Russia. Volume XIV: New Russia and Crimea.] St. Petersburg:
A. Davrian, 1903; 1910.
The great Russian geographic collection, undertaken with the sponsorship of the Imperial Geographic Society, and never carried to completion. Articles on all aspects of the geography, in the widest sense--demography, folklore, natural history, economy, history, dialectology, etc.
A most valuable source even today.
116. Shabad, Theodore. Geography of the USSR. New York: Columbia University Press, 1951. xxxiv plus 584 pp.
A regionally-organized survey of the USSR. Quite accurate and impartial -- perhaps the best geography in English on the USSR.
117. Sherekh, Iury. "Trends in Ukrainian Literature Under the Soviets."
Ukrainian Quarterly, volume IV, number 2, Spring 1948, pp.
151-167.
Literary critic, now at Columbia, writing mainly of the early Soviet period.

113. Sichyns'kyi, Volodymyr. Ukrains'ka Derevlana Arkhitektura i Riz'ba. [Ukrainian Wooden Architecture and Woodcarving.] Unpublished manuscript, Research Program on the USSR, New York, 1955. 118 pp.
Exhaustive study of a highly characteristic medium of the folk art.
119. Simpson, George Wilfrid. Ukraine; a Series of Maps and Explanations Indicating the Historic and Contemporary Geographical Position of the Ukrainian People. New York and London: Oxford University Press, 1941.
A scholarly, but brief cartographic work. Less valuable since the war than formerly.
120. Smal-Stocki, Roman. "Ukraine as the Geopolitical Base of Russian Imperialism," Ukrainian Quarterly, volume VIII, Spring 1952, pp. 116-122.
Smal-Stocki tends to be a representative of the fire-brand school of nationalism.
121. Sokolov, Y. M. Russian Folklore. Translated into English by Catherine Ruth Smith). New York: The Macmillan Co., 1950. 747 pp.
Some information on Ukrainian folklore.
122. Ukraine. Berlin: O. Stollberg, 1942. 114 pp.
A general guidebook, not especially useful.
123. Ukrainian Arts. A Collection of Authoritative Articles on the Ukrainian Folk and Fine Arts. Introduction by Clarence Manning. New York: Ukrainian Youth League of North America, 1952.
A helpful guide.
124. Ukrainian Quarterly. (New York). Published by the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America. 1945-
Articles by Ukrainian scholars on all subjects, many of them concerning some aspect of Ukrainian history, geography, culture. Valuable, even indispensable for an understanding of the country and people, but to be used with caution because of the predominance of strong nationalist views among the authors. Various shades of opinion within the nationalist camp are fairly represented.
125. Ukrainian Resistance. New York: Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, 1949. vii plus 143 pp.
The story of the UPA - Ukrainian insurgent army--during the World War II and after. Partisan.
126. Ukrains'ka Kul'tura. Kurs lektsiy. [Ukrainian Culture. A Course of Lectures.] Edited by Professor Dmytro Antonovych. Regensburg and Berchtesgaden: Ukrains'ky Tekhnichno-Hospodars'ky

126. Ukrains'ka Kul'tura. Kurs lektsiy. (cont.)
Instytut, 1947. 397 pp., mimeographed.
Collection of material by well-known Ukrainian scholars, originally published in Czechoslovakia in 1940.
127. Valeanu, Traian. "The Question of Bukovina -- Then and Now,"
Journal of Central European Affairs, volume 4, 1944-1945,
pp. 372-399.
One of the few studies in English on this area. Sympathetic with Rumanian claims.
128. Virnyk, D. Ekonomichnyy rozkvit Ukrain's'koi RSR. Torzhestvo Lenins'ko-Stalins'koi natsional'noi polityky. [Economic Blossoming of Ukraine. A Triumph of Leninist-Stalinist
National Policy.] Kiev: Akademiia Nauk URSR, 1951.
Rank propaganda, devoted largely to panegyrics.
129. ----- . Ukrainskaia SSR. Kratkii istoriko-ekonomi-cheskii ocherk. [The Ukrainian SSR. A short economic historical outline.] Moscow: "Gospolizdat," 1954.
182 pp.
Economic history of Ukraine under the Soviets, designed to prove that the country has benefited greatly from Soviet rule.
130. Volin, Lazar. A Survey of Soviet Russian Agriculture. (United States Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Monograph Number 5). Washington: Government Printing Office, 1951.
194 pp.
An excellent survey, the best short work on Soviet agriculture.
131. Vowles, Hugh Pembroke. Ukraine and Its People. London and Edinburgh: W. R. Chambers, 1939.
132. Vozniak, M. Istoriia ukrains'koi literatury. [History of Ukrainian Literature.] L'vov, 1920.
History of the literature in the pre-Soviet period, and emphasizing Western Ukrainian tradition.
133. Vucinich, Alexander. Soviet Economic Institutions: the Social Structure of Production Units. Hoover Institute studies number 1, series E "Institutions," 1952. Stanford University Press, 1952.
A good model of Soviet social organization in production. Uses the contemporary press of the USSR as its chief source.
134. Zadrozny, John T. The Development of a Nationality Movement.
Unpublished Ph.D. dissertation in sociology, the University of Chicago, 1953.
Covers the entire period of Ukrainian history, using the case of the Ukrainian national movement to derive general concepts concerning nationality and nationalism.

134. Zadrozny, John T. (cont.)
The author's personal position is a moderate and open-minded one.
135. Zelenin, Dmitrii Konstantinovich. Russische (Ostslavische) Volkskunde. [Russian (East Slavic) Ethnography.] (Grundriss der Slavischen Philologie und Kulturgeschichte.) Berlin and Leipzig, 1928.
A comparative and exhaustive inventory of the material culture of the East Slavic peoples, with full references to the ethnographic literature.

SPECIAL BIBLIOGRAPHIC MATERIALS
RELATING TO UKRAINE:

136. Akademia Nauk URSS, Kiev. Bibliografichna Komissia. Ukrain's'ka bibliografiia. [Ukrainian Bibliography.] Kiev: 1928-1929.
Especially valuable is the bibliographic essay of M. I. Yasina'kii, "Bibliografiia ukrains'koi bibliografii," pp. 106-121.
137. Andrievs'kii, Oleksander. Bibliografiia literatury z ukrains'koho folkloru. [Bibliography of the Literature of Ukrainian Folklore.] Kiev, 1930.
138. Borschak, Elie. "L'Ukraine dans la littérature de l'Europe Occidentale," [Ukraine in Western European Literature], Monde Slave, n.s., volume XI, 1934, number 2, pp. 136-147; number 4, pp. 129-151 and 305-320.
139. Gautier, G. "Histoire Ukrainienne. Publications en langue ukrainienne parues dans l'URSS de 1917 a 1928," Revue Historique (Paris), volume 162, September-October 1929.
140. Ianovskii, -- . "Bibliografiia russinskoï ili galitsko-russkoï literatury," [Bibliography of Ruthenian or Galician-Russian Literature.] Entsiklopedicheskii Slovar' Brokgauza, pervoe izdanie, tom III, pp. 769-771.
141. ----- . "Trudy posviashchennye bibliografii literatury malorusskoï," Entsiklopedicheskii Slovar' Brokgauza, tom III, p. 767.
142. Jefremov, S. "Historiography of Ukrainian Literature," Annals of Ukrainian Academy of Arts and Sciences in the US, I. Winter 1951, pp. 4-20.
143. Lawrynenko, J. Ukrainian Communism and Soviet Russian Policy. A Bibliography. New York: Research Program on the USSR, 1953.

144. Mikhaiłova, Mariia Georgievna. Flora ta roslynnist' URSR.
Bybliohrafiia. Pokazchuk knizhok i zhurnalnykh statei.
[Flora and Vegetation of the Ukrainian SSR. Bibliography.
Index of Books and Newspaper Articles.] Kiev: Akademiia
Nauk, 1938. 61 pp.
145. Peleas'kyi, Evhen. Ucrainica: Selected Bibliography on Ukraine in Western European Languages. Munich: Bystrycia, 1948.

