UKRAINIAN CATHOLIC CLERGY IN DIASPORA (1751 -1988)

Annotated List of Priests Who Served Outside of Ukraine

Rome 1988

PREFACE

This book is published as a companion volume to "Schematism of the Ukrainian Catholic Church – a Survey of the Church in Diaspora", which was commissioned by the Synod of Ukrainian Catholic Bishops and was published in the November of 1988.

The need for information about all the priests in diaspora I began to notice when I myself started to work as a priest in diaspora in the United States and knew nothing about the priests I met, or about their predecessors in the parishes I visited. So I began slowly to prepare a list of all the priests who were working or had worked in the United States and generally in diaspora, since several priests had worked not only in the United States but also in other countries previously. In addition, I began to prepare a list of parishes of the Ukrainian diaspora, but in the United States there were not sufficient sources of information.

The project began to take shape only after I returned to Rome in 1973 and especially when in 1983 I proposed to the Synod of the Ukrainian Catholic Hierarchy, as part of the celebration of the Millennium of Christianity in Ukraine in 1988, to publish a Schematism of the existing Ukrainian Catholic parishes and of all living priests in diaspora including Yugoslavia and Poland. The proposition was favorably accepted and decisively approved in the next synod in 1985, after each bishop received a 30 page detailed plan of the project.

During the course of research for the Schematism, I had kept a file on each priest, so that the list of former pastors in each parish would not be in contradiction with the former pastors of other parishes. This was necessary because many of the parishes either had names of former pastors without the years of their pastorships, or else had only the last names taken from parish records with no indication as to whether the priest was pastor, assistant or simply visiting the parish for a short period. At least half of the parishes and localities (1,175 altogether) had not even a list of names.

Generally when questionnaires had been sent to each living priest, the response was good. Most of the priests informed me first hand of their own vital statistics, including their assignments in various parishes. With this information I was able to reconstruct the former pastors of many parishes, even those which had no records of their own. In order to have a "time window" for the period of pastoral activity of each deceased priest, I began to compile an account of each priest's pastoral activities, with his ordination date and his death date. After the items of information began to multiply, it was often possible to deduct new information regarding lacunae in the parish lists, especially when only last names of the pastors were reported without dates. There was still a great deal of information missing however, and I had to collect it wherever it could be found - newspaper accounts of new appointments, necrologies, directories, catalogues, address books, etc.

The list gradually evolved into a general alphabetical list of all Ukrainian Catholic priests and bishops in diaspora, with biographical annotations, including some of the pastoral assignments of the priests in Ukraine before they left for diaspora. The list was planned to be included as an appendix to the Schematism for the Millennium, but it was too long, the Schematism being already 1,318 pages and ready to go to print. It was better therefore to wait and publish the list as a separate work, with corrections and updated information as far as possible for the year 1988.

In the list of priests are given the parishes in which each priest served, and also where possible the other localities he attended during his time of service. To facilitate the understanding of this information for the reader, Appendix I was added, with the lists of present parishes and/or pastoral centers, each with the year of its establishment as a parish or pastoral center. The places are arranged in alphabetical order for each country in which there exists a Ukrainian Catholic diaspora. The countries are listed in chronological order, according to the time of the earliest Ukrainian immigration to each. The eparchies of the United States and Canada are listed together chronologically for each country.

Since Germany played an important part in the Ukrainian diaspora after World War II, there being in the years 1945/1948 more than 120,000 Ukrainians and more than 300 priests in various displaced persons' camps in Germany, a second appendix was added, which lists the parishes and camps in the years 1945-1951 with some statistics. Most of the people went on to other countries; those remaining were rearranged and the new arrangements and pastoral centers are listed under Germany in Appendix I.

The information about each parish, each pastoral center and all missions or daughter churches and more information about the presently living Ukrainian Catholic clergy (including their studies) can be found in the Schematism of Ukrainian Catholic Church¹ published in 1988, the year marking the Millennium of Ukrainian Christianity.

INTRODUCTION

Yugoslavia (1751)

Group emigrations of the Ruthenian/Ukrainian people from their native territories and native eparchies to the present territory of Yugoslavia began to take place in about the middle of the 18th century. At first they came from the Eparchy of Mukačiv, on Transcarpathian territory, and settled as farmers on the border territory between the Austrian-Hungarian Monarchy and Turkey, at that time in the southeastern corner of Austria-Hungary and presently the Bačka region in Yugoslavia. The first two villages organized completely by them were Ruski Krstur and Kucura. In Ruski Krstur the parish was established in 1751, and in Kucura the parish was established in 1765. In time other localities were organized and parishes established. Priests were obtained from the Eparchy of Mukačiv, and from the Croatian Žumberak region, where some Byzantine rite Croatian Catholic parishes had existed since 1611, headed by a bishop who had no definitive title and no definitive episcopal see. In 1777 a special eparchy was established by Rome at the insistence of Empress Maria Theresa of Austria for those Croatian Catholics of Byzantine rite and for Ruthenians/Ukrainians with the official title of Križevci.

In 1896-1914 larger groups came from the territory of Halyčyna, from the Metropolitanate of Halyč, to the southeastern corner of Austria-Hungary and settled as farmers in the neighbouring regions of present day Bosnja and Slavonia in Yugoslavia. Soon they established their own parishes and were served by priests from the Metropolitanate of Halyč. They obtained a vicariate in 1908 and their own Apostolic Administration in 1914, with Father Oleksander Bazjuk of L'viv as Apostolic Administrator. In 1924 the Apostolic Administration was terminated and the parishes became part of the Eparchy of Križevci together with the Croatian and Ruthenian parishes. The Macedonian and Romanian parishes were added in 1923.

The parishes of Transcarpathian origin retained their ancient name of "Ruthenian" for their national origin, whereas those of Halyčyna nearly exclusively began to use the recent name of "Ukrainian" in place of "Ruthenian" for their own nationality, the name having been generally introduced in the 20th century in order not to be considered as Little Russians or even as Russians, or backward Little Russians. To avoid the useless discussions, parishes were divided into Ruthenian and Ukrainian according to the origin of their membership in Zakarpattja or Halyčyna. In time some parishes became mixed, or were organized as mixed, Ruthenian/Ukrainian. Among the clergy there exists some difference of origin, but that difference has nearly disappeared.

The number of parishes of which the eparchy was composed was variable and generally increasing. Missions and closed parishes are not included in the following chart:

	1777	1800	1900	1988
Croatian	6	6	8	14
Ruthenian	2	4	3	5
Ruthenian/Ukrainian			6	13
Ukrainian			3	13
Macedonian				5
Romanian				2

It is hard to determine the Croatian/Ruthenian/Ukrainian nationality of priests, especially those of the 18th and 19th centuries. It was supposed that, although some were Croats, they knew the Ruthenian/Ukrainian language and worked for the good of the Ruthenian/Ukrainian people as did the Belgian Redemptorists in Canada and Halyčyna. Pastors of Ruthenian/Ukrainian parishes from 1751 until 1988 have therefore been included in the annotated list of Ukrainian Catholic clergy, even if they were or are of Croatian nationality and served before or afterwards in Croatian parishes.

On the annotated list, for the assignments of priests of the Križevci eparchy of past centuries only Ruthenian/Ukrainian parishes are indicated, giving the names of the parishes in which they served and the years of their service in each. From the beginning of this century it seems that not only did some Croatian priests serve in Ruthenian/Ukrainian parishes, but also that some Ruthenian/Ukrainian clergy served in several Croatian parishes. Therefore by the names of these priests in many cases are indicated their Ruthenian/Ukrainian and also their Croatian parishes, and in one case also a Macedonian parish.

Austria (1784)

The first Ukrainian/Ruthenians began to settle in Vienna after 1772, when Halyčyna (in 1772) and Bukovyna (in 1774) became part of the Austrian-Hungarian Monarchy. They went primarily to Vienna, employed as officials in various central offices, or as simple workers, and others went for a limited time as students or as soldiers in the Austrian military service. In 1775 the Barbareum, a central seminary for Ruthenian/Ukrainian and other Byzantine rite Catholic theology students, was opened in Vienna. The seminary immediately became a religious center for Ruthenians/Ukrainians and other Byzantine rite Catholics in Vienna. In 1784 the Barbareum was closed, and in the same year the parish of St. Barbara was officially established by Emperor Jozef II in Vienna for all Byzantine rite Catholics (Ukrainians/Ruthenians/Romenians/Croatians). Besides the parish, later there were opened other Central Ruthenian/Ukrainian Seminaries in Vienna (Stadtkonvikt 1804-1848 and Central Seminary 1852-1893) with rectors being at the same time also pastors of St. Barbara parish. Although there was a problem of jurisdiction, the parish actually was dependent upon L'viv until 1945. The Major Archbishop of L'viv and Metropolitan of Halyč was commemorated officially in the Liturgy by imperial decree of July 28, 1820¹. On October 3, 1945, the Ordinariate for the Faithful of Eastern Rite in Austria was established with the Archbishop of Vienna as Ordinary, which includes under its jurisdiction all Ukrainians/Ruthenians and other Eastern rite Catholics scattered all over Austria.

The United States (1884)

Ukrainians/Ruthenians began emigrating to the United States from Halyčyna and Zakarpattja in great numbers in the 1880's and continued to arrive until 1914. Their first parish was organized in 1884 by Father Ivan Voljans'kyj of L'viv in Shenandoah, Pennsylvania, and within the next few years several other priests from the Eparchies of Halyčyna and Zakarpattja came, and many parishes were organized in the United States. At the incessant insistence of the Ukrainian/Ruthenian people and clergy and of Metropolitan Andriј Šeptyc'kyj, Major Archbishop of L'viv, Father Soter Ortyns'kyj, OSBM was appointed as Apostolic Visitor for Ukrainians/Ruthenians in the United States of America in 1907, and in 1913 the Ukrainian/Ruthenian Eparchy was established in Philadelphia with Bishop Ortyns'kyj as eparch.

In 1924 the Eparchy of Philadelphia was divided in two and a new eparchy was created with its seat in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The parishes were divided according to the territorial origin of their members. Those of the Metropolitanate of Halyč and of Bukovyna were assigned to Philadelphia, and those of the Eparchies of Mukačiv, Prjašiv, Hajdudorog and Križevci were assigned to Pittsburgh. The mixed parishes were assigned according to the origin of the majority of their faithful. Later both eparchies were divided and new eparchies created according to the same territorial origin of their faithful. The Eparchy of Philadelphia in 1958, and the Eparchy of Pittsburgh in 1969 were raised to archeparchies (metropolitanates). Presently each Metropolitanate has three dependent eparchies.

Of the priests in United States of America, in the present annotated list are included only the priests of the Archdiocese (Metropolitanate) of Philadelphia and its dependent eparchies: Stamford (created in 1956), Chicago (1962) and Parma (1982). The priests who served or now serve in parishes of the Archdiocese (Metropolitanate) of Pittsburgh and its dependent parishes have been omitted, although several early priests who served before the division of 1924 and who later belonged to the Eparchy of Pittsburgh are included, because the Ukrainian/Ruthenian distinction had not yet been made during the first years of their service.

Brazil (1896)

The first Ukrainian/Ruthenian immigrants to Brazil arrived in the 1890's and in large groups from 1895 until 1914, and they settled mainly as farmers in two states of southern Brazil - Paraná and Santa Catarina. The first priests who came to minister to their spiritual needs in 1896 were Fathers Mykola Myxalevyč, Nykon Rozdols'kyj and Ivan Voljans'kyj, but only Father Rozdols'kyj remained. In 1898 the first Basilian Fathers began to arrive from Halyčyna, and predominantly they have been taking care of Brazil until now. In 1962 an exarchate was established for Ukrainian Catholics in Brazil with Bishop Josyf Martynec', OSBM, as first exarch and, when the exarchate was raised to an eparchy in 1971, he became the first eparch.

Canada (1897)

The first Ukrainian/Ruthenian Catholic settlers arrived in Canada in 1891 and settled as farmers in Alberta in the place now known as Chipman. In the next few years several thousands came, bought or received land in the Prairie Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and settled there as farmers. Some got the temporary work in building the railroads across central and western Canada and afterwards settled on farms. The first priests came from the United States to give them religious care and to help them with the organization of the churches - Fathers Nestor Dmytriv in 1897, Pavlo Tymkevyč in 1898, Damaskyn Polyvka, OSBM in 1899 and Ivan Zaklyns'kyj in 1900. In 1901 Father Vasyli' Žoldak arrived from L'viv. These priests remained only for a short time, about one year. Beginning in 1902, the Basilian Fathers came on a more permanent basis and began their pastoral work among the Ukrainians. The Redemptorist Fathers began their work [originally as Latin rite] in 1899, and later also members of the secular clergy began to come permanently.

In 1912 an eparchy was established in Canada, with Bishop Nykyta Budka from L'viv as the first eparch with residence in Winnipeg. Bishop Budka had jurisdiction over all "Ruthenians" in Canada. The people, for the most part had settled in the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta, Ontario, Saskatchewan and Québec. In 1948 the Exarchates of Western Canada (Alberta and British Columbia), Central Canada (Manitoba and Saskatchewan) and Eastern Canada (Toronto, Nova Scotia and Québec) were established, and in 1951 Central Canada was divided, resulting in the establishment of four exarchates - Manitoba (became the Exarchate of Winnipeg in 1952), Saskatchewan (became the Exarchate of Saskatoon in 1954), Edmonton (formerly Western Canada), and Toronto (formerly Eastern Canada). In 1956, Winnipeg was made an Archeparchy, with three dependent eparchies - Edmonton, Saskatoon and Toronto. In 1974 the Eparchy of Edmonton was divided and the new eparchy of New Westminster (British Columbia) was created.

Argentina (1908)

Ukrainian immigrants settled as farmers, mainly in the province of Misiones, from 1897 until 1914. Others arrived after World War I between 1924 and 1930 and settled as workers mainly in Buenos Aires and the surrounding areas. A third group arrived after World War II from German displaced persons' camps and settled as workers mainly in Buenos Aires and its vicinity.

The first priests who came to Misiones were Father Klymentij Bžuxovs'kyj, OSBM from Brazil (in 1908 for a half year), Father Jaroslav Karpjak from Peremyšl' (in 1909 for a year and a half), Father Omeljan Ananevyč from Stanislaviv (in 1911 for 7 years), Father Ivan Senyšin from Stanislaviv (in 1911 for 15 years until his death in 1926), Father Stepan Turčyn from Stanislaviv (in 1927 for one year) and Father Stepan Vaprovych from Stanislaviv (in 1927 for 8 years). In 1935, when Father Vaprovych went back to Halyčyna, the Basilian Fathers came from Brazil to take care of the faithful in the province of Misiones, and since 1940 also in the province of Buenos Aires. After World War II, several more Basilians, some secular priests and a couple of Salesians from Europe came, and also a Franciscan from the United States.

New parishes and missions were organized, so that in 1968 an exarchate was created in Buenos Aires, with Bishop Andriy Sapeljak, SDB as exarch. In 1978, when the exarchate was raised to an eparchy, Bishop Sapeljak became the first eparch.

Germany (1927)

After World War I, Ukrainian immigration to Western Europe began, and during the postwar upheaval in Europe after World War II, numerous Ukrainians were forced to emigrate from their native land to or through Western Europe. At this period, political immigration of Ukrainians to Germany took place, but the immigrants were not numerous and were scattered in a few cities. Metropolitan Andriy Šeptyc'kyj assigned Father Petro Verhun in 1927 to take care of them, with residence in Berlin. When World War II broke out, many thousands arrived in Germany, either as refugees from the communists, or for forced labor in factories and farms in Germany. With them came priests, some sent by the hierarchy and some as refugees themselves. In 1940, Father Verhun was appointed as Apostolic Visitor with rights of Administrator to take care of a more organized religious service for the people. Just before his arrest by the Soviets, he appointed Father Mykola Vojakivs'kyj as vice visitor, and after his arrest in 1945, Father Vojakivs'kyj took his place, with residence in Munich. In 1946 Bishop Ivan Bučko was appointed by Rome as Apostolic Visitor with rights of Administrator for all Western Europe including Germany. Bishop Bučko, with residence in Rome, appointed Father Vojakivs'kyj as his vicar general for Germany, and after his departure for the United States, Father Petro Holyns'kyj was appointed.

According to a report of Father Verhun, the Apostolic Visitor for Ukrainians in Greater Germany, sent to Pope Pius XII on June 16, 1944, there were in Greater Germany at that time several hundred thousand Ukrainian Catholics, served by 26 priests. Greater Germany included all of Germany in 1939 together with the annexed Sudetenland, Poznan and Corridor territories. In 1944/45 about 300 Ukrainian Catholic priests came to Germany and began taking care of the people, whereas over 3,000 priests remained under Soviet rule.

After the end of World War II, the Ukrainians of Greater Germany who were in territories occupied by Soviet troops were forced to return. In the provinces occupied by American, British and French troops Ukrainians mostly remained in Germany. Those remaining were placed in over 100 camps with priests assigned as pastors, administrators or catechists to take care of them. In the years 1948-1951 most Ukrainian displaced persons and priests left Germany for the United States, Canada, France, Belgium, Great Britain, Australia and a few to South America. Relatively few remained in Germany by 1952.

The Schematism of 1947² gives the names of 320 priests and states that 69,639 Catholic faithful were in Germany in 1947. By July 1, 1949 there were still 128 priests and 45,180 Ukrainian Catholics, by July 15, 1950 there were 51 priests and 27,286 Catholics, and in a report of October 5, 1951 there are names of only 21 priests living and working in Germany and the names of 22 places being served, one place being without a resident priest on account of the lack of priests.³

A list of localities and camps where Ukrainian people lived and were taken care of by Ukrainian priests is included in Appendix II, with indication of parish registers kept and saved in originals or in copies, which are now conserved in the archives of the chancery office of the Exarchate for Ukrainians in Munich. Also given are some statistics of the Ukrainian population, most of whom were living in camps, but the numbers were changing continuously with the movement of people from camp to camp or leaving camps as they emigrated to different countries.

Appendix III gives the general statistics of the situation as of July 1, 1949, how many had left and how many were still in Germany at that date.

In 1952 and the following years the remaining people and priests were reorganized. Some centers were retained, some closed and new ones were created. Pastoral centers with surrounding area were established, to which priests have been assigned as pastors. In 1959 an exarchate was created for them in Germany and Bishop Platon Kornyljak was appointed as the first exarch.

France and Belgium (1937)

After World War I, Ukrainians began to go to France as workers for different factories. In 1937 Metropolitan Andriy Šeptyc'kyj appointed Father Jakiv Perridon, with residence in Paris, to take care of them. During and immediately after World War II, the number of Ukrainian Catholics in France increased, and other priests came in to help, mostly from German DP camps. Bishop Bučko, as Apostolic Visitor for Western Europe with rights of Administrator, appointed Father Perridon as his vicar general for France in 1946, and in 1952 Father Mavrykij Van de Maele, CSSR was appointed in his place.

After World War II, Ukrainians went to Belgium, mostly as workers in the mines, and they were cared for by Redemptorists of Byzantine Kyivan rite. Very soon, priests from the German DP camps also arrived, going through Belgium on their way to various other countries, and they helped take care of the people. Father Mavrykij Van de Maele, CSSR was appointed by Bishop Bučko as his vicar general for Belgium in 1946 and in 1952 Father Jakiv Perridon was appointed. In 1960 an exarchate was created in France and Bishop Volodymyr Malančuk, CSSR was appointed as the first exarch. In 1983 Belgium became part of the Exarchate of France.

Great Britain (1947)

Large numbers of Ukrainians immigrated to Great Britain after World War II. Some came as workers from German DP camps, some with the Polish Anderson Army Corps which was demobilized in Great Britain, but the biggest number was formed from the demobilized Ukrainian Halyčyna Division, which was transferred to England from Rimini, Italy in 1947. Their pastoral care was given by former Halyčyna Division army chaplains and by priests from Rome, from German DP camps and from Canada. In 1949, Bishop Bučko appointed Father Volodymyr Maluga, CSSR as his vicar general for England and in 1951 Father Oleksander Malynov's'kyj in his place. In 1963 an exarchate was established and Bishop Avhustyn Hornjak was appointed as first exarch.

Poland (1947)

In 1947, numerous Ukrainians were forced to resettle in Poland. Nearly all of them were transferred from Lemkivščyna, from the Peremyšl region and from the Jaroslav region to the western and northern territories of Poland, which by the Treaty of Yalta were taken from Germany and given to Poland. Between 1947 and 1957 Ukrainian priests gave only a small amount of religious service to the people, and even that small amount was dangerous, on account of the hostility of the government. Only after 1957 have they been able slowly to organize the parishes and missions which all are depending from the Archbishop of Warsaw and Primate of Poland.

Australia (1949)

Ukrainian immigrants began to arrive in Australia between 1947 and 1950 as workers. Religious care was given them by Father Dmytro Kačmar from 1949 until his death (+1977), and by Father Pavlo Smal in 1949 for one year. In 1950, Fathers Franz Boskyj, CSSR and Mykola Kopjakiv's'kyj, CSSR arrived from Canada and Father Ivan Praško arrived from Rome. In 1952 Father Petro Djačyšyn from Great Britain joined them, and afterwards some other priests also came. In 1958 an exarchate was created, with Bishop Ivan Praško as exarch. In 1982 when the exarchate was raised to an eparchy, Bishop Praško became the first eparch.

EXPLANATION OF THE HEADINGS IN THE ANNOTATED LIST

●"Name" -In order to simplify the search for names in the alphabetical list, the names of Ukrainian origin are spelled according to the international Parisian Slavic Institute system of transliteration. Other Latin alphabet spellings for the surnames, as used by the priests themselves or as printed in various sources, are included below in plain print below the entry name, which is in bold print. If the different spellings of a name do not come in close proximity, there will be a "see reference" indicating how the name has been included in the list. For religious priests, or those who were active as religious priests at one time, the first given name is that which he assumed in his religious community, and the second is his baptismal name.

●Under the heading "Order" are included the initials for the Order, Congregation or Monastic Community to which the priest belongs or belonged during his lifetime, and the year in which he made final profession [simple profession in case of the Redemptorists]. If a man left his religious community after making final profession, the years in which he belonged to it will be indicated under "assignments" in the far right column instead.

●The heading "Country" includes those countries in diaspora in which the priest served actively. If he only passed through a country, or was in a country only in retirement, the country is not included.

●"Birth" includes the birthdate and birthplace. The name of the povit [for Ukraine] is given in brackets. The name of the country is given occasionally for the sake of clarity.

●"Ordination" includes the date of ordination to the priesthood, the last name of the ordaining bishop, and the place of ordination.

●"Death" includes the death date, the place of death, and the place of burial in some cases.

●"Assignments" is a chronological list of the pastoral, teaching, or other service the priest did in diaspora. Where it was possible, some previous assignments in Ukraine are also included.

Some of the dates are given in brackets [-] instead of parentheses (-). These dates refer to information indicating that the priest was in that place in that year, and do not refer to an appointment or termination year for an assignment. In fact, since many of the sources, such as catalogues, directories or eparchial schematisms, publish information from the previous year, the year can often be understood as being "late" - e.g. the year [1924] will probably refer to the fact that in 1923 (sometimes even 1922) the priest was in a given place.

Second parishes are included where possible, separated from the first by a slash [/]. If the second parish was only temporary, or was taken care of on a visiting basis, it is on the next line followed by the word "attended" or "att." Some of the priests had to care for large pastoral districts, and it was not always possible to include all of the second parishes or localities because of the limited space.

Positions are given after the appointment/termination years. If no position is given, it is understood that the priest was pastor, and the word pastor appears only when there would otherwise be ambiguity regarding the assignment. Other important assignments, such as provincial superior, editor, etc. have been included when possible. For bishops, also included are the consecration date, place of consecration and the name of the consecrating bishops.

APPENDIX I

Lists of Parishes/Pastoral Centers in Diaspora as of 1987

By the names of countries is given the date when the first priest came to take care of the people, and by the names of eparchies or exarchates when the first bishop was appointed.

In the lists are given the names of localities where there presently exists a parish with the year of establishment of regular services, or a pastoral center (a parish with missions or daughter-дочерні churches) with the number of daughter churches in parenthesis and the year of its beginning as a pastoral center. Former pastoral centers, either closed or being attended from another parish in 1987 are listed after the presently active ones with the years of opening and of termination as a pastoral center.

In the "Annotated List of Priests", under the heading "assignments" for the United States and Canada are given the names of localities and states/provinces, without indication of eparchies. In order to determine the eparchy to which a parish or locality belonged and in which the priest was serving, it is necessary to place the years of his assignment in that place within the historical frame of the divisions of the Archeparchy of Philadelphia and of Winnipeg.

In the United States, all priests at first belonged to the Eparchy of Philadelphia until 1924, and then belonged with their parishes to whatever eparchy they came under after the successive divisions of the Archeparchy of Philadelphia. [See p. 9 for the years of these divisions]. The same applies to the divisions of Winnipeg [See p. 10]. It is therefore possible that a priest would belong to different eparchies at different times, or even that he would be serving outside of his own eparchy, although generally this is not common practice.

In the Eparchy of Križevci the parishes are of different nationalities, but belong together to one eparchy. The following list of the present parishes in Yugoslavia is arranged according to the nationality of their parishioners with the years of their establishment.

Appendix II

Forced Diaspora : Germany 1939-

During World War II, many Ukrainians were brought to Greater Germany, mostly as forced laborers. Some were evacuated from the regions of military front operations and the rest came from Western Ukraine and Bukovyna, avoiding the Soviets in territories they had occupied by the treaty concluded by Hitler and Stalin in 1939, and had reoccupied in 1944.

Ukrainians found in the territories occupied by Soviets were forced by the Soviets to return to the Soviet Union. Those who were in territories occupied by American, British and French military forces [the present Western German Republic] remained and the overwhelming majority of them were put into camps, where they all, Catholics, Orthodox and Protestants established their parishes and missions and different religious, national, political and cultural organizations and kept them alive until most of them emigrated to different countries of the Free World. Those who remained reorganized themselves and have continued to live in Western Germany.

To give at least some idea of that Ukrainian diaspora in Germany, a list has been made of camps and localities with the map indicating where those Ukrainians lived in the years 1945 to 1952.

Sources for the statistics on the following list

1) Existing metrical books, either in the original or in copies, conserved in the Chancery Archives of the Exarchate of Germany. The list was compiled by Mrs. Olga Tuziak, the archivist of the Exarchate.

2) The West German territory was divided into three zones, American, British and French according to the post war occupations, the southern provinces occupied by the Americans, the northern provinces by the British and the western provinces by the French. ✓ means that the place is on the map on p. 283, followed by Am, Br or Fr to indicate American, British or French zone.

3) The Schematism of the Ukrainian Catholic Church in Germany: Шематизм Української Католицької Церкви, Munich 1947. pp. 3-94, gives statistics for Catholics, Orthodox and Other [Protestant] Ukrainians.

4) Numbers of Catholics in 1949 are taken from the Report of Vicar General Father Petro Holynskyj sent to Apostolic Visitor Ivan Bužko in Rome on September 30, 1949. A copy of the report, along with some other reports are conserved in the Archives of the Basilian General Curia in Rome among "The Papers of Father P. Holynskyj".

5) Statistics of 1946/47 for all camps and of 1950/51 for camps in the British Zone were taken by the Central Representation of Ukrainian Emigration in Germany (ЦПУЕН) and published by Wolodymyr Marunjak in "The Ukrainian Emigration after World War II in Germany and Austria" (Володимир Маруняк, Українська еміграція подругій світовій війні у Німеччині і Австрії), Munich 1985, pp. 101-112.
